Department of Agriculture Asks for Additions to Delaware Farm Market Directory

Do you own or operate a farm market or roadside produce stand in the state of Delaware? If so, you are eligible for free publicity in the Delaware Farm Market Directory.

The Farm Market Directory is distributed to Delaware residents and visitors at festivals and events throughout the state. There is also an electronic version available on the Department of Agriculture Web site, www.state.de.us/deptagri.

The Farm Market Directory currently includes listings of over 100 farm markets. In order to update the publication for the 2005 season, the Delaware Department of Agriculture is asking businesses who are not represented to submit a brief application detailing their market and its products. These new markets will be included in an addition to the 2005 Directory.

Listed markets also receive point-of-purchase materials each year courtesy of the Department of Agriculture.

All interested businesses should contact Amanda Brown, Marketing Specialist for the Delaware Department of Agriculture, at (302) 697-4523 or amanda.brown@state.de.us for an application.
